“Our Eye is on the Future”

From the Principal's Desk

Follow me on  Twitter

Dear Parents and Guardians,

It is hard to imagine that we are wrapping up another school year! It feels like just yesterday that we were welcoming our incoming 6th graders and making preparations for an exciting new journey. We certainly have managed to squeeze in some really special events which have allowed us to get to know one another and to grow closer as a school family. For that I am truly thankful.

However, this time of year is always bitter sweet for me. Like everyone else, I am eagerly looking forward to spending some quality time with family and friends this summer. Yet, I am saddened to say good-bye to our 8th graders, as each year they take a little piece of my heart with them when they leave. Please join me in wishing them good luck on all of their future endeavors.

While summer is nearly here, my creative wheels are already spinning and thinking ahead for next year. I look forward to continuing our efforts to improve our school culture, to find ways for our parents to be more involved, and to continue building our curriculum to improve students' academic and personal success.

As always, we wish you a safe and joyful summer filled with quality family time and precious memories.

Sincerely,

Nicole Telese, Principal

And the Gold Goes to...

Southport Middle School received top honors from the state and the University of South Florida for our implementation of Florida's Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports Project for the 2014-2015 school year.

Characteristics of a PBS Model School are the consistent methods of: utilizing data to better serve students and staff; teaching PBS expectations to students throughout the school year; establishing creative and engaging reward systems; incorporating PBIS in daily activities and teaching, extending PBS throughout campus and partnering with the community.

The core beliefs of PBIS are to prevent problem behavior, boost understanding and respect, and increase positivity and success.

Each day students recite our school-wide expectations with our morning news anchors. Teachers recognize students who follow those expectations throughout the day through the daily distribution of Cane Cash.

Students whose continued efforts of meeting the school wide expectations are recognized through the Student of the Month Recognition Celebration, monthly team based activities including movies, karaoke, and sports events, as well as school wide events like our yearly carnival and dances.

Heart & Sole, formerly known as Girls on the Run is non-profit organization dedicated to creating a world where every girl knows and activates her limitless potential and is free to boldly pursue her dreams.

Meeting twice a week, they teach life skills through dynamic, interactive lessons and running games. The curriculum includes three parts: understanding ourselves, valuing relationships and teamwork and understanding how we connect with and shape the world at large.

Running is used to inspire and motivate girls, encourage lifelong health and fitness, and build confidence through accomplishment. Important social, psychological, and physical skills and abilities are developed and reinforced throughout the program. At each season's conclusion, the girls and their running buddies complete a 5k running event which gives them a tangible sense of achievement as well as a framework for setting and achieving life goals.

Girls on the Run Halayna Thomas, Madison Bailey, Whitney Beaucejour, Ilayna Benoit, Aivi Lang, Summer McDonough, Candyse Minniefield, Destiny Ramey, Legacy Richardson, Grace Robinson, Daysia Tubbs, and Tabitha Antoine.

Southport Middle School Girls on the Run 5K

The final result—making the seemingly impossible, possible, and teaching girls that they can. The program culminates with the girls being physically and emotionally prepared to complete a celebratory 5k running event. For the 5K, Southport running buddies Kristin Alvarez, Sharon Casillas, Maureen Dakin, Elizabeth Phillips, Art Bailey, Maria Lawson, Roshona Payne, Knosha Hair, Rick McDonough, and Principal Nicole Telese came out to support the girls at the event.

Young Authors

Our annual Young Authors Celebration brought one of our favorite authors back to Southport for another memorable YA presentation. Donna Gephart amused and inspired students with some personal history about herself and her life as an author. She awarded autographed copies of How to Survive Middle School, Death by Toilet Paper, and Olivia Bean Trivia Queen to students and spoke to them individually as they met with her to sign their copies. Ms. Gephart presented 7th grade student Jacob Guerrero with a copy of her latest title, Lily and Dunkin, for reading all 15 Middle School Sunshine State titles this year. Jacob will go on to the St. Lucie Reading Council's district level YA Celebration.

A special thank you to our literacy angel, Ms. Wanda Galey for arranging another fabulous YA Celebration! Ms. Galey has been a major force in our Young Authors, as well as getting published authors like Donna, and her books to Southport students.

JUST READ, FLORIDA!

2016 SUMMER LITERACY ADVENTURE

Florida's First Lady Ann Scott and the Florida Department of Education have partnered with the Florida Lottery and the Florida Department of Environmental Protection to announce the 2016 Summer Literacy Adventure.

Literacy experts and educators agree that children of all ages need to be read to, read by themselves and talk about the books they have read during the summer. Your student's summer reading and book discussions will help maintain reading skills, improve reading fluency and provide the opportunity to learn new vocabulary and concepts. Most importantly, when parents and children enjoy summer reading together, children develop a love of books and reading that lasts a lifetime. According to research by Richard Allington (2007), by the time a struggling reader reaches middle school, summer reading loss has accumulated to a two-year lag in reading achievement. Researchers also conclude that two-thirds of the ninth-grade reading achievement gap can be explained by summer learning loss. Let's work together to help students in Florida stay on track and not lose valuable ground in reading.

The 2016 Summer Literacy Adventure is geared to help children stay on target, motivated and excited about reading and literacy. During summer vacation, it is important for students of all ages and reading levels to spend time reading and writing on a regular basis.

To make reading even more exciting, we are challenging all of our state's students to pledge to read as many books as possible throughout the summer break, and I hope that you will encourage all of the teachers, students and parents in your school to participate. Each student can fill out his or her pledge on the Just Read, Florida! website at Summer Literacy Pledge. Following the summer break, the department will recognize the top 10 schools with the highest percentage of participation. The school whose students read the most books will receive a surprise visit from First Lady Ann Scott.

In addition to this challenge, here are some suggestions and resources for you, as the district literacy leader, to share with administrators, reading coaches and teachers in every school in your community to encourage reading. Thank you for your continued efforts to provide Florida's students the resources and support they need to be successful in school and in life.

2016 SUMMER LITERACY ADVENTURE SUGGESTIONS AND RESOURCES:

- Provide tips to parents for summer reading. (See Parent Tips for Summer Reading attachment)
- Use up any remaining Parent-Teacher Organizational funds at the school or district levels by providing summer book-packs. Book-packs include age-appropriate books at the student's reading level with follow-up activities for students to complete during the summer break.
 - Materials that support the themes of STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics);
 - Materials that foster parental involvement, reinforce learning at home and support Florida Standards; and
 - Resources that include, when possible, online engagement.
- Consider having "Open Library Nights" at your schools where children and parents can come and check out books and read at the school library. Media specialists may want to track grade-level participation and recognize these children/grades at a schoolwide 2016 Summer Literacy Adventure Celebration.
- Consider allowing children to use classroom library books or media center books as tools to meet the Summer Literacy Adventure challenge. Books can be checked out during summer library hours.

PARENT TIPS FOR SUMMER READING

- Consider sending phone messages via your district’s automated messaging system to all students, encouraging them to keep reading and be part of the Summer Literacy Adventure when they return to school. This message can come from the superintendent, principal, reading coach or classroom teacher.
- Consider using the school website to promote the Summer Literacy Adventure.
- When students return to school in the fall, coordinate a Summer Literacy Adventure Celebration for the students who participated.
- Consider having rewards or prizes for students who complete the Summer Literacy Adventure.
- Encourage your students to visit their local libraries during the break.
- Invite your students to use the “Find a Book” tool to identify books geared toward their interests.
<https://www.lexile.com/fab/fl/>
- Engage in “Just Take 20,” which empowers families in their role as literacy developers by helping parents and adults find teachable moments and encouraging the addition of 20 minutes of real-time reading in their everyday lives. Engaging parents in family literacy is a worthwhile endeavor because it helps students form the positive habits, attitudes and dispositions that result in lifelong learning and productive citizenry.
