A Note from the Principal

The mid of October brings the end of the first nine-weeks. That means a quarter of the school year is coming to a close. Classroom routines have been established and learning is underway. You can help us reach your child's best potential. Please ensure that your child arrives to school on time and attends school everyday. We need students here to give them our best. Also, be sure your child is reading a minimum of 20 minutes daily. Research shows students who read twenty minutes nightly typically score in the 90th percentile on standardized tests. Students who read five minutes per day score in the 50th percentile and students reading one minute per day score in the 10th percentile. Not only does reading promote academic excellence, it can build a strong relationship with their guardian. Reading provides an acclamation to new experiences and teaches enhanced concentration. Most importantly it shows children that reading is FUN! Want to be a better reader? Simply read.

~ Mrs. Walukiewicz

These three book worms stopped by the office to share their stories to the secretary, Mrs. Singletary.
